

DARRYL LOW CHOY

I am a qualified town planner, a Fellow of the Planning Institute of Australia, and a Fellow of the Environmental Institute of Australia & New Zealand. I have been a tertiary educator and researcher for 35 years, retiring in 2017 as Head of Planning at Griffith University. I am now Professor Emeritus (Environmental and Landscape Planning) at Griffith University.

My parallel military career commenced as an Army school cadet before enlisting as a Private and rising to the rank of Major General in the Reserves. I retired in 2007 after 43 years of service.

As a fifth generation Australian with Chinese and English heritage I have developed a strong interest in genealogy. My family history research for my and my wife's families has embraced research in China, England, Scotland, Northern Ireland, New Zealand, and Australia.
